WINNIPEG, February 20.

The young king of Spain is seriously ill.
The Pope's jubilee was celebrated yesterday.
Wilfred Laurier is coming west this year.
Costigan will introduce a resolution favoring Irish home rule.
The Ontario central prison is turning out cheap binding twine.
Thompson has declined interfering with the Nova Scotia coal combine legislation.
Deputy minister of justice Selgwick has been appointed to the vacancy on the supreme court.
Sir William Vernon Harcourt says that Blake's speech in parliament was the best ever made there on behalf of home rule.
Parliament will probably prorogue before March 10th, as Thompson expects to leave for Paris on the Behring's sea arbitration.
The secretary of state at Washington has repudiated the action of minister Stevens in proclaiming a protectorate over Hawaii.
In the supplementary estimates, under the head government in the Northwest Territories are the following items: well boring machines $2,990; further amounts to meet expenditure in lieutenant governor's office $3,700; hospital $800; to complete Red Deer industrial school $6,000.

LOCAL.

Trains left Calgary at 8.30 this morning.
Beautiful weather, snow becoming shallower every day.
Laurier's dog trains left for Slave lake on Thursday last.
P. Pridgen and S. Villeneuve, traders of Lac la Biche are in town.
The Lang estate, Fort Saskatchewan town site, has been surveyed and is now being put on the market.
John Owens, Pince Creek, Alberta, arrived on Thursday's train with a car of range horses, broken and unbroken, for sale.
Large deliveries of wheat at the South Edmonton mill. Grinding commences to-day.
Sixty cents is paid for good wheat and up to 65c.
Rube Allen and C. Kelly will give an entertainment in Edmonton some time in March next under the auspices of the fire brigade band.
Market prices, wheat 35c to 65c; Oats 25c; barley 25c; hay $5; potatoes $1. Butter 30c; eggs 35c; beef by the carcass 5c to 7c for spring delivery, pork 8c.
P. C. Hamilton of Clover Bar, left for Brandon on Friday's train to attend the convention of patrons of industry to be held there. Mr. Hamilton represents the Edmonton county lodge at the convention.
H. Holbrook, who arrived from Dakota last month has leased the Queen's hotel, Fort Saskatchewan, and will open up a first class stopping place there at once. He began moving his effects down to-day.
A letter arriving by last train stated that R. McKernan, of South Edmonton who went east a couple of weeks ago had been nearly suffocated by gas in a Winnipeg hotel. He was found, however, before it was too late and was brought around all right. He proceeded on his trip east.
E. Raymer returned from a trip to Manitoba and Ontario on Thursday's train. He visited Winnipeg, Ottawa and other points. The greater part of January was very cold in Montreal, but Toronto did not suffer. The Edmonton district was well spoken of and thought of at all points that Mr. Raymer visited.
The train which left Regina for Saskatoon on Saturday, February 10th, reached Bonington station but could not get through to Saskatoon. It returned to Regina on Thursday, 15th, bringing the passengers who had been on the train which left Prince Albert on January 30th, and which is still stuck in the vicinity of Bonington. On Saturday last the steam rotary snow plow was sent out from Regina, but as yet it has not reached Saskatoon. On Thursday 15th, a man arrived at Saskatoon from Bonington, on foot. He reported the snow 30 feet deep in some of the cuts and the telegraph wire broken in over 50 places between Bonington and Saskatoon.
It is an ill wind that blows nobody good. The severe weather of the last of January and beginning of February has certainly done great damage to the cattle on the ranges of both Alberta and British Columbia. Whatever the loss of life may be certainly there will be no fat range fed beef for spring delivery, in the coast cities. It is a plain case that there will be a brisk demand for all the fat beef that the farmers of the Edmonton district can furnish between the present time and the beginning of June. With plenty of cheap barley and oats to be had, if the farmers of this district do not realize a good price for all the cattle they have to spare within the coming four months the fault will be their own, in not getting their cattle into proper condition for market. There are a large number of fat cattle in the district now but there are many more that a little grain would fatten which without being fed will not be in saleable condition until the grass grows next season, by which time the demand will have fallen off and prices will be correspondingly lower.

BRICK! BRICK! YES BRICK.

Having attained the reputation of making the best brick in the Territories I will make it a point to continue to lead in that line; while thanking the building community of Edmonton and vicinity for their kind patronage in the past would invite their inspection of my work and prices in the future. Do not be deceived by parties who claim to make a pressed brick with a sand stock machine, or produce them in May in this country; it cannot be done. Pressed brick sell in the cities of Canada and the Eastern states for $20.00 and upward per thousand and can't be sold or made here for any $10.00. I set up no claim to such liberality, but can produce a good brick in July for $8.00; August, $7.00, September $6.00, and in large quantities. Parties requiring brick late or early in the season will find it to their advantage to examine what they are buying, before placing their orders.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, FEBRUARY 20, 1893

THE RECENT COLD SPELL.

If anything were needed to demonstrate the superiority of the winter climate of the Edmonton district over that of any other part of the Northwest the cold snap which lasted here from January 24th to February 5th was sufficient for the purpose. With the thermometer lingering around the 40's and 50's and even approaching the 60's below zero it would be nonsense to pretend that it was not bitterly cold, or that "you did not feel the cold." It was cold, deadly cold, colder to the feeling even than it sometimes is with the thermometer equally low, for there was a dampness in the air that is unusual. It was as cold or nearly as cold at Edmonton as anywhere else in the country, and yet Edmonton had a very great and marked advantage over other sections of the country during all that cold weather, that the people only now begin to realize, as the reports from other places come in. The two great points in favor of Edmonton were absence of wind and abundance of fuel. If any person who knows anything about winter weather will carefully consider all that is contained in these two points, he will arrive at an idea of the advantage which Edmonton enjoyed in this particular instance, and which it always enjoys, as compared with other sections of the country. As everyone knows the first and chief comfort in cold weather is a fire, and what is only a comfort in moderate weather becomes necessary to the support of life, as the cold increases. The very first consideration in preparing to meet the severity of a northern winter is the fuel supply, its quantity, quality and price. In this particular Edmonton, and indeed all northern Alberta, stands pre-eminent for the present and for the indefinite future. While a fuel famine is reported at many points along the railway line, and no one knows the famine that may, and in many cases must have been, amongst isolated settlers on the bleak, bare prairie, miles and miles away from fuel of any kind, except what is hauled at the risk of life from week to week; at Edmonton with a boundless supply of excellent wood almost at every settler's door and a still more boundless supply of coal underlying the town and indeed the whole country there was no scarcity, and not even inconvenience in procuring fuel, no one one needed to suffer and no one needed to risk any danger or encounter any difficulty in procuring all that could possibly be required. While people were able to keep warmer at less expense than elsewhere they were not obliged to take the desperate chances that had to be taken on the bare prairies in order to procure fuel. The abundance of fuel in Northern Alberta robbed the cold of half its terror.

While the abundance of wood supplies cheap fuel everywhere, it also protects from the sweeping winds which are the danger of the plains. The wind and driving snow, causing the cold to penetrate every crack and crevice, blocking the roads so as to make travel impossible and adding untold severity to the already piercing cold was present on the plains throughout the greater part of the cold snap, but did not occur at Edmonton. During the whole of the cold spell, although there was sometimes a slight breeze it was never strong enough to cause the snow to drift. Consequently the roads remained good, travel was unimpeded, people drove about and transacted their business during the coldest weather, and stock did not suffer at all in most cases, or to any great extent in any. While the tales of men frozen to death or maimed for life on the plains are still coming in the first serious case of frost bite has yet to be heard of in this district, which in itself is sufficient proof of the difference in favor of Edmonton. Another proof of the more favorable weather here was the difference in the running of the trains. While the main line trains were continually delayed by the extreme cold and the drifting snow and on the Prince Albert branch the blockade is not yet raised, on the run between Calgary and Edmonton there was only one delay, when the train, which was very much behind time, laid up at Red Deer for part of a night. Taken altogether the people of the Edmonton district have every reason to be satisfied with the weather with which they have been favored compared with other parts of the west, and intending settlers would do well to consider carefully the facts in this connection in making their choice of a new home. The prevalent feeling in favor of the Edmonton district rests upon a good foundation and no part of that foundation is better than the superiority of its winter climate.

A Seattle telegram of February 6th reports that the stage from Conlee to Columbia in Washington state arrived recently with the driver frozen to death. In the previous week the driver and one passenger arrived badly frozen and delirious.

A Helena, Montana despatch of February 7th says: "In the Judith cattle country last week the thermometer dropped to 63 degrees below zero and did not rise above 50 below for some days. Snow was three feet deep in the valleys."

A REPLY TO AN IMPORTANT QUESTION

Which is the best and cheapest Dry Goods Store in Town? is the question now frequently asked by the Settlers, who have recently arrived in this district. In answer to this important question, I would respectfully but emphatically reply, the MANCHESTER HOUSE.

Dealing as I do almost exclusively in Dry Goods, I have always on hand a larger and better assorted stock than any house in Town. Prices too are cut so fine, that it is frequently remarked by those who seek quotations "Why you are selling as cheap as they do down east, and in fact in some cases cheaper."

Many of the lines have been personally selected in the best English Markets.

MIXED FARMING.

The Northwest Farmer has a long and careful article on wheat as compared with mixed farming, decidedly favoring the latter. It was the wheat farming craze which caused settlement to spread so rapidly over the plains of Dakota, Manitoba and Assiniboia a few years ago and caused the more fertile and desirable Saskatchewan valley to be left in the back ground. But the experience of years has proven the folly of the wheat idea and the trend of opinion is now altogether in favor of mixed farming, for which the Saskatchewan valley and particularly the Edmonton district is peculiarly adapted. The following is a part of the Farmer's article:

A few years ago the man who ventured to point out that in Manitoba, as in all other countries, mixed farming and crop rotation must before long be the ideal method of successful farming, was apt to be talked of as a crank who wanted to engraft on a grand new country with its rich virgin soil, the slow old-fashioned methods of continuous cropping. It would not be difficult to rake up from the columns of the Farmer even institute speeches in which men of lengthened and successful experience in Manitoba farming held up to ridicule the idea that a farmer on such land as the Portage la Prairie Plain could ever expect to make money from any thing else but a good crop of wheat. The institute is not yet an ancient institution, but it would be rather difficult to-day to get a decent minority in any such meeting that would stand up and contend for the faith in which some of them expected to live and die. Mixed farming in some form or other is the favorite maxim of institute teachers to-day, and wheat growing as it was understood half a dozen years ago is knocked on the head. The old faith in wheat was not altogether a delusion. There is no possible form of husbandry by means of which so much money can be made by an intelligent and pushing pioneer when the soil is fresh and new. But in a good many places wheat was rushed into and wide areas sown on land where painful experience has demonstrated that wheat, if grown at all, must be grown under such limitations and subject to so many risks that the average result has been an actual loss all the way through. And even on the land where year after year, with an occasional summer fallow, wheat was a fairly safe and frequently a very gainful crop, men of sound discernment see signs of the need for a coming change and are only too glad of any hint pointing to some change from the old system, that may be trusted to save them from failure and disappointment.

MACKENZIE RIVER MISSIONS.

The Winnipeg Tribune publishes most interesting letter from Rt. Rev. Bishop Reeves of Mackenzie river church of England diocese. It is dated from St. David's mission, Fort Simpson, Mackenzie river, N. W. T., Canada, via Edmonton, 4th November, 1892. The first paragraph is as follows: "We have had a very open fall on the whole. In September there was a heavy fall of snow and some severe cold which damaged our potatoes, but since then it has been much milder. Winter, however, is now upon us. Ice is drifting thickly in the river. The ground is covered with snow. The days are shortening fast. Already it is too dark to see to write after four o'clock, and we are still a long way from the shortest day. The bears have retired to their dens to sleep through the cold weather. Wolves will soon be prowling around, but they do not trouble us much. Our winter's supply of fish has been secured, as is evident to any one possessing a nose. Rabbits and ptarmigan have changed their brown coats for white ones. The former are said to be numerous, so I trust there is no danger of privation this year." Before proceeding to diocesan matters it may interest you, perhaps, to give you a brief account of my journey hither—a very different affair now from what it was 23 years ago, when I first came to this district! Then the journey occupied nearly five months; now it could be accomplished in thirty days. Then the railroad did not come within 2,500 miles of us; now it is only 1,800 miles away! Then there was no steamboat nearer than Winnipeg; now one passes our very door! and there is steam communication in summer nearly all the way, except about 100 miles. Then, and for nearly twenty years afterwards, it was necessary to order our clothing, groceries, flour, etc., two years beforehand, and sometimes they were three years, and even more, before they reached us; now we can receive them within nine months. Then we received our letters twice a year; now we get them three and occasionally four times! These are improvements for which we are very thankful.

Bishop Reeves gives a sketch of the mission work in his diocese from which the following is condensed: At Fort Resolution on the south east shore of Great Slave lake is a mission station and diocesan school, the latter having been in existence two years. The minister in charge is Rev. Mr. Spendlove; who also supervises missions at Fort Rae 120 miles north and Fort Providence 170 miles west. Most of the Indians around Resolution are Roman Catholics. About 100 of the Indians at Fort Providence are connected with the Church of England. At Fort Simpson is St. David's mission the head of the diocese. Mr. March, a recently arrived Wycliffe student is in charge during the absence of the bishop and will afterwards open a school at Fort Liard 200 miles to the southwest. At Fort Norman, north of and further down the Mackenzie than Fort Simpson Rev. J. Hawksley is in charge of a mission, relieving Rev. D. N. Kirkby who is leaving the mission work. About half the Indians around Fort Simpson are Roman Catholics. At Fort McPherson, the most northern mission station in the diocese, Rev. J. O. Stringer, a Wycliffe graduate is in charge. Out of 455 Indians belonging to Fort McPherson 410 are baptized members of the Church of England and 120 are converts. Venerable Archdeacon R. McDonald has worked amongst these people for a long time and is now translating the bible into their language. Eighty pupils are taught at the school. The Esquimaux trade at Fort McPherson and it is to work amongst them that Mr. Stringer has devoted himself. They are still heathens. At Forts Good Hope, Rae, Nelson and Wrigley there are no missions. The latter is the only one at which the Church of England has any adherents. At the other posts the Indians adhere to the Roman Catholic church. In describing the Esquimaux Bishop Reeves says that they are of large stature, most of the men being over the average height. Both men and women are dressed in skin clothing, some of it beautifully and tastefully ornamented and exceedingly well made. The men had tokuses in their cheeks and the women had their hair dressed in a peculiar fashion.

Tribune, Calgary: Mr. James Forrest has made a fine collection of native Alberta grasses, which he will ship in a few days for exhibition in the Old Country. They were secured from the districts of High River, Sheep Creek, Jumping Pond, Kananaskis, and the country north of Edmonton, and comprise 104 distinct varieties, including a few samples of wild vetches, pea vine and hemp seed. Mr. Forrest will send them first to Ireland, from there through Scotland and England. They are conveniently arranged on a canvas frame eight feet square, and cannot fail but attract considerable attention in the Old Country to our splendid natural grasses.

Speaking of the project to parallel the Canadian Pacific from Sault Ste. Marie to the Atlantic, President Van Horne, of the C. P. R., said yesterday: "A lot of tramps hang round Ottawa during the session and worm the charters out of members of the government. Then they go round the country raising money on them. They never put anything in the project, but they manage to live upon foolish people. Now, if we had a general railway act in Canada, it would be of great benefit to the country. It would shorten the session for one thing, and thus save money. It would send these tramps about their business to work for a living, and thus get rid of a dirty, unscrupulous lobby, which is now a feature of every session."

Calgary Herald: Mr. T. G. Pearce, Dominion immigration agent, left on this morning's train for Duluth. He will remain for some time in that district, organizing immigration work, as there are a large number of Canadians thereabouts who are anxious to locate in the Northwest. He will afterwards conduct operations in northern Ontario. Messrs. J. G. Fitzgerald and Geo. Hamilton left this morning for the States of Idaho, Washington and Oregon where they will work up emigration to Alberta.

A Miss Moore aged 23 years was recently kidnapped in New York city. Her guardians advertised an offer of $250 for information that would lead to her recovery. Her captors advertised that nothing less than $5,000 would be accepted, and that if it were not forthcoming without enquiry her life would be sacrificed.

The Kamloops, B. C., Sentinel, referring to the disastrous storm, says: "Until the weather moderates, the extent of the losses to the ranchers of this district will not be known, but that cattle are dying by hundreds, if not thousands, every day cannot be doubted."

The latest intelligence from New Orleans is that the committee of investigation have reinstated Marksman, but that no more entries will be received from McAbee during the present meeting.

On the authority of Senator Longheed the Herald contradicts the report that Major Stewart of Ottawa has the contract for the new Calgary postoffice.

The Calgary general hospital ran behind $500 on last year's operations.

A BRIDGE ACROSS THE STURGEON RIVER.

MR. EDITOR.

Will you allow me the space for a few words in reference to the proposed bridge across the Sturgeon river. About seven weeks ago, I was asked to draw up a petition to send to the members of the legislative assembly for this district asking for a grant of money for a bridge on the above named river at or near the crossing of the Victoria trail. This I accordingly did and after it had obtained the signatures of the settlers and farmers of this part, it was forwarded to Mr. Prince and money, it appears, has been granted for the object stated in the petition. It seems now from rumors that I have heard (if the rumors have any foundations) that certain persons from Creuzot who have neither part nor lot in the matter have presumed to advise the member as to the location of the proposed bridge and as to the way in which it should be built; even going so far as to suggest that it be placed not in the location for which the grant was made but some miles higher up the river and that it be built by day labor. I cannot believe that a member of parliament would for a moment listen to such absurd propositions and from such a quarter. For, if anyone has a right to make suggestions, it would be the petitioners and not any of the meddlesome jackanapes from Creuzot. These people of course are evidently in a penurious condition and would like to get their fingers into the money. The bridge is of no consequence to them as they are all on the south side of the river. Perhaps if they would mind their own business a little more they would not need to trouble themselves so much about that of others.

The natural and proper place for the bridge if not at the present crossing of the Victoria trail, is nearer to the Saskatchewan on the government road as marked in the surveyors' plans between section 26 and 27 township 55, range 22. This would also shorten the Victoria trail by three or four miles and is where the road must eventually be made. Then as to the bridge being built by the day, who ever heard of so insane a proposition as government work of the kind being done by the day? It would be simply to waste the money and the bridge might not be finished at last. The natural and simple way to do this will be to call for tenders and let the work on contract, and with this object, I may suggest that Mr. Prince appoint two trustworthy and reliable men from among the petitioners to select the spot where the bridge should be placed and make measurements so that tenders according to plans and devices be called for the work. Mr. Prince has too much sense to listen to lunacies such as these men of Creuzot or to misapply public money at their suggestion; yet these few words on the subject may not be unreasonable.

Thanking you in anticipation for the space, I am,

Yours very truly,

A PETITIONER.

Fort Saskatchewan, Feb. 13th, 1893.
